The Family—The Fuss—and The Forum

Family conflict, if unattended or unmanaged, is costly and destructive. At best, relationships are damaged and inefficiencies abound. At par, civil litigation is spawned, and the impact ripples—it often avalanches—far beyond the litigants themselves. At worst, egocentric behavior erupts into severe injury or loss of life. Mediation is emerging as an appropriate dispute resolution forum. It is especially appropriate for those who must continue in their relationships as parents long after their “case” has been decided.

West Virginia family courts require mediation to help the parties resolve many domestic relations issues on their own. This training will equip a cadre of family law mediators to serve in West Virginia’s Family Court Circuits as these mediation initiatives are developed.
