Supreme Court Arguments Postponed

For immediate release Friday, March 13, 2020

CHARLESTON, W.Va. – Arguments at the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia that were scheduled for March 17 and 18 are being postponed, and a date to hear the arguments has not been determined.

The Court had been scheduled to hear arguments in three cases on Tuesday and three cases on Wednesday. The cases have been continued indefinitely due to concerns over the coronavirus.

The Wednesday cases initially were to be part of the Legal Advancement for West Virginia Students (LAWS) docket in Braxton County to which high school students from Braxton, Clay, Gilmer and Webster Counties were invited. The Court decided Thursday to postpone the LAWS trip to the fall.
