Re: JIC Advisory Opinion 1995-12

Dear

Your letter to Counsel dated May 5, 1995, was reviewed by the Commission at its recent meeting. In that correspondence you asked for an advisory opinion regarding your wife's employment as an assistant to the director of development at a private school which your children attend. The director of development works in fundraising, grant writing, and publicity.

The Commission could find no violation of the Code of Judicial Conduct by the employment which you describe in your correspondence. Your wife's endeavors in this area would be separate and apart from any of your judicial activities.

If you have any further questions concerning the matters which you have raised in your correspondence, do not hesitate to contact the Commission.

Very truly yours,
