Administrative Rules for Magistrate Courts

Rule 1B. Disqualification.

* * *

(e)(1) When a magistrate is disqualified or recused, the magistrate shall immediately transfer all matters relating to the case to the magistrate court clerk, who shall forthwith assign the case to another magistrate within the county pursuant to Rule 2 of these rules or, if no other magistrate is available, shall forthwith notify the supervising circuit judge of the need for the assignment of a magistrate from another county to hear the case. If all magistrates in the county where the case is pending are recused or disqualified, and if this county is located within a multi-county circuit, the supervising chief judge shall assign a magistrate from another county within the circuit pursuant to West Virginia Code §50-1-13(b). If no magistrate is available or the circuit is a single-county circuit, the supervising chief judge must submit a letter to the Chief Justice stating the reasons for the magistrates' recusals and request that a new magistrate from another circuit be assigned. The Chief Justice shall, within 5 days, either deny the request if the reasons for disqualification or recusal are insufficient and direct that one of the magistrates in that county preside over the case, or, if the reasons are sufficient, the Chief Justice shall assign a new magistrate from another circuit.
