Preliminary Matters and Further Pleadings

As reflected in its Order Regarding Hearing On Various Motions entered herein on May 24, 2018, this Court convened a hearing regarding the above-reference motions on May 15, 2018. At that time, it further reviewed the parties' related pleadings filed thereon to date and heard arguments of counsel. Thereat, it announced that such matters would be taken under advisement with particular decisions to then be made on Defendants' Motion To Strike Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing and Continue Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action and Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration (including directives for preparation and circulation of appropriate orders) via subsequent letter ruling.

Without seeking this Court's prior leave or permission, a duly notarized Affidavit Of Julie A. Brennan, Esquire was filed herein on May 21, 2018 on behalf of DRB Defendants. Therein, Ms. Brennan provides additional information (purportedly in further response to this presiding judge's questioning during the May 15th hearing). Such information particularly concerns what events and communications transpired between Plaintiffs' counsel and DRB Defendants' counsel after denial of DRB Defendants' then Motion to Compel Arbitration by Order entered on February 6, 2012 and entry of related stipulations of Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants that are reflected in an Order entered herein on March 21, 2012.

Plaintiffs' Reply To Affidavit Of Julie A. Brennan, Esquire, Filed in Support Of The DRB Defendants' Response To Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike The DRB Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration was then filed herein on May 23, 2018 by and through Plaintiffs' legal counsel likewise without formally seeking this Court's prior leave.

Further submitted to this Court, via hand delivery on May 22, 2018, is a letter from Plaintiffs' legal counsel, Mr. Romano, directed to this presiding judge (and copied to all counsel of record herein). Therein, he represents that he wishes only to bring attention to this presiding judge two (2) cases, purportedly for purposes of clarification, which he believes bear upon the "issue regarding the type and quality of evidence that Plaintiffs must muster to carry their burden to certify the putative class in this matter".

This Court has now again extensively reviewed the nine (9) year case history herein as well as particularly revisited these pending Motions and all matters of formal record herein related thereto for purposes of final consideration and deliberation in an effort to make final rulings thereon as well as make further procedural determinations.

Given the totality of the lengthy procedural history herein, the passage of time, extensive pleadings and legal counsel correspondence made a matter of record herein, this Court concludes it is essential to make all rulings made herein infra in conjunction with exercising its discretionary judicial authority for case management.

Accordingly, this Court will now proceed to rule on these Motions in ruling Order form (rather than by letter ruling as initially contemplated) as well as address other pending matters herein both substantive and procedural in nature so that this instant litigation is better postured for achieving timelier and final resolution in the overall interest of justice, fairness to the parties and judicial economy.

*DRB Defendants' Motion To Strike Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing
And Continue Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action and Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action*

This Court has fully reviewed DRB Defendants' Motion filed herein on April 11, 2018 and Plaintiff's Response in Opposition filed herein on May 10, 2018 as well as the entirety of related pleadings and pertinent record herein developed to date. It has considered the respective averments and arguments respectively proffered by the parties' in their pleadings and oral argument as well as submitted legal authority.

DRB Defendants' Motion To Strike Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing And Continue Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action was filed herein on April 11, 2018. Such Motion to Strike references no rule, statute, citation or authority pursuant to which it is brought before this Court for purposes of striking a pleading from the formal record. Essentially, DRB Defendants aver that class certification discovery between Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants is necessary as well as follow-up briefing by them respectively before such hearing should be held.

Pursuant to Rule 23(c)(1) of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action was filed herein on November 3, 2017 with and accompanying Memorandum In Support Of Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action. Plaintiffs therein, inter alia, conclude that:

Representative Plaintiffs' causes of action for negligence, strict liability, trespass, nuisance, fraudulent misrepresentation, tort of outrage and infliction of emotional distress, vicarious liability, and declaratory judgment, among others, and the damages caused thereby, clearly present common questions of fact and law necessary to maintain this class action, and this matter meets all requirements of Rule 23. (See Memorandum in Support, p. 13).

Such Motion to Certify remained pending before this Court without any further related action made a matter of record herein by either Plaintiffs', DRB Defendants or this Court until Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing served on March 27, 2018 and filed herein on March 28, 2018 setting such matter for hearing on June 4, 2018 at 1:00 o'clock p.m.¹

Plaintiffs' Response In Opposition to Defendants' Motion To Strike Notice Of Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action was filed herein on May 10, 2018.

Therein, inter alia, they conclude:

The DRB Defendants' Motion to Strike...and Continue Hearing...must be denied because they fail to describe how class certification discovery substantively impacts the application of the law to Plaintiffs' Motion to Certify..., and because Plaintiffs' expert disclosures are largely irrelevant to the Court's ruling on such certification. (See Response in Opposition, p. 6).

Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration and Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration

Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration was filed herein on May 4, 2018 and accompanied by Plaintiffs' Memorandum In Support Of Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration. Such Motion to Strike likewise references no rule, statute, citation or authority pursuant to which it is brought before this Court for purposes of striking a pleading from the formal record.

Plaintiffs' essentially assert that DRB Defendants' pending Motion to Compel Arbitration must be denied because the "law of the case" doctrine does not permit these Defendants to challenge this Court's Order Denying Defendants' Motions To Dismiss Complaint And Lifting Stay Of Discovery entered herein on February 6, 2012.² Entry of an Order striking DRB Defendants' pending Motion to Compel Arbitration is requested.

Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Support essentially asserts, inter alia, that:

1. This Court's prior ruling in denying this matter being compelled to arbitration must be upheld "unless controlling authority has since made a contrary decision of law applicable to [the pertinent] issue [herein, to-wit: DRB Defendants' Sales

² Such Order denied Defendants' Motions To Dismiss The Complaint And Compel Arbitration.

Agreement was deemed unconscionable due to its lack of fairness and equality] or there has been a material change in facts”.

2. Subsequent changes in West Virginia law concerning arbitration, while liberalizing enforceability of arbitration clauses, are not controlling for the particular arbitration issues previously before this Court and that were ruled upon in finality.

3. DRB Defendants have not asserted any change in the material facts of this case – because there has been no change – the Court’s holding in 2012 that the arbitration clause contained in the DRB Defendants’ Sales Agreement is unconscionable and, thus, invalid is the “law of the case”.

(See Memorandum in Support, unnumbered pp. 3 - 5).

The pending Defendants’ Motion To Compel Arbitration was filed herein on January 8, 2018 and accompanied by a more expansive Defendants’ Memorandum In Support Of Motion To Compel Arbitration. Therein, DRB Defendants again request this Court to order the parties herein to arbitration as to all claims.

DRB Defendants assert, inter alia, there to be a valid and binding arbitration provision within each Agreement of Sale with Plaintiffs that must be enforced under current West Virginia law and the mandate of the Federal Arbitration Act. Therefore, DRB Defendants particularly request this Court to revisit this issue.³

Notice Of Hearing for DRB Defendants' Motion to Compel Arbitration was served on Plaintiffs' legal counsel on March 27, 2018 and filed herein on March 29, 2018. Such hearing was set for June 4, 2018 at 1:00 o'clock p.m.

Memorandum In Opposition To Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration was filed herein on May 8, 2018. DRB Defendants therein attempt to creatively counter Plaintiffs' Motion to Strike arguments. Thereupon, they further press for ultimate referral of this instant litigation to arbitration based upon this Court's procedural application of Rule 54 of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure for revisiting this previously ruled upon issue and its exercise of plenary power and discretionary authority to reconsider a previous ruling. (See Syl. Pt. 2, in part, Taylor v. Elkins Home Show, Inc., 210 W. Va. 612, 558 S.E.2d 611 (2001)).⁴

Plaintiffs' Reply To Defendants' Memorandum In Opposition To Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration was filed herein on May 11, 2018. Therein, Plaintiffs succinctly counter DRB Defendants' opposition with an additional premise insofar that such renewed Motion to Compel is nothing more than an untimely motion for reconsideration if, in fact there has been no change in law or facts sufficient to revisit a Court's interlocutory ruling as they originally argued in their Motion to Strike. Therefore and with DRB Defendants further failing to cite particular rule authority under which they were making this renewed Motion, such Motion to Compel must be treated

⁴ Syllabus point 2 therein specifically states:

In an ongoing action, in which no final order has been entered, a trial judge has the authority to reconsider his or her previous rulings, including an order granting a new trial. Since a trial court has plenary power to reconsider, revise, alter, or amend an interlocutory order, the court has the power to take any action with respect to an order granting a new trial.

as being made under Rule 60(b) for relief from a judgment order.⁵ When so treated, DRB Defendants' Motion to Compel Arbitration fails to meet such Rule's temporal limitations or guidelines.

Discussion and Conclusions

This Court has fully reviewed these identified Motions, Memoranda, supporting documents and related correspondence as well as the entirety of related pleadings and pertinent record herein developed to date. It has considered the respective averments and arguments respectively proffered by the parties' in their pleadings and oral argument as well as submitted legal authority.

Furthermore, this Court is judicially compelled (in light of the totality and breadth of proceedings heretofore had herein and in the interest of Rule 1⁶ and Rule 16⁷ of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure) to proactively maintain sufficient

⁵ Plaintiffs accurately cite to Powderidge Unit Owners Ass'n v. Highland Properties, Ltd., 196 W. Va. 692, 474 S.E.2d 872 in support thereof.

⁶ Rule 1 [Scope and Purpose of Rules], of course, dictates that the purpose of such Rules of Civil Procedure are to be "construed and administered to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action." (Underline emphasis added by this Court).

⁷ Rule 16 [Pretrial conferences; Scheduling; Management] addresses this Court's authority to manage its own court docket and proceedings before it in civil actions.

Issues arising from case management are within the sound discretion of the trial court. "[T]rial courts have the inherent power to manage their judicial affairs that arise during proceedings in their courts, which includes the right to manage their trial docket." B.F. Specialty Co. v. Charles M. Sledd Co., 197 W. Va. 463, 466, 475 S.E.2d 555, 558 (1996).

In addition, the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia has stated that Rule 16(b) of the West Virginia Rules of Civil Procedure requires active judicial management of a case, and mandates that a trial court shall enter a scheduling order establishing time frames for the joinder of the parties, the amendment of pleadings, the completion of discovery, the filing of dispositive motions, and generally guiding the parties toward a prompt, fair and cost-effective resolution of the case. Caruso v. Pearce, 223 W.Va. 544, 678 S.E.2d 50 (2009). Rule 16 is left to the sound discretion of the court and a trial court may choose to use the rule or not as it sees fit, or as the complexity of a particular case may warrant. Roark v. Dempsey, 159 W. Va. 24, 217 S.E.2d 913 (1975). (Underline emphasis added by this Court).

In exercising such discretion, a trial court may so modify or amend a scheduling order when "good cause" is shown for doing so. State ex rel. Pritt v. Vickers, 214 W. Va. 221, 588 S.E.2d 210 (2003).

momentum and substantive movement for further proceedings herein including its own sua sponte actions in exercising both judicial discretion and general plenary power as well as considering relief for interlocutory orders as justice may require. (See State ex rel. Crafton v. Burnside, 207 W.Va. 74, 77, 528 S.E.2d 768, 771 (2000)).

This Court is well aware of the protracted nature of these proceedings and acknowledges that this is, in part, due to previously contemporaneous federal court litigation, legal counsel illnesses, legislative service immunity exercised counsel.

Therefore, with an eye generally efficient management of its judicial docket and particularly in consideration of its review and discussion of pending matters herein extensively identified supra, this Court concludes the following:

1. Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration should be DENIED as presented.

2. Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration, treated under Rule 60(b) as a motion for relief from this Court's prior ruling in its February 6, 2012 Order, should be sua sponte DENIED by this Court for lack of timeliness as well as in achieving a final resolution given the procedural and litigation history heretofore undertaken herein.

3. Defendants' Motion To Strike Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing should be DENIED as presented however its further motion therein to Continue Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action should be GRANTED as herein further molded.

4. Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action should be HELD IN ABEYANCE by this Court pending further discovery, briefing and hearing as set forth herein infra.

5. Plaintiffs' and DRB Defendants' respective Notices for Hearing for June 4, 2018, with regard to their Motions to Strike should be sua sponte VACATED.

6. Out of an abundance of caution, an additional discovery and briefing schedule on class certification should be sua sponte ESTABLISHED and a further hearing on certification of such class should be SCHEDULED by this Court. Good cause for conducting such proceedings is deemed to exist as well as the being in the all-encompassing interests of justice and fair resolution of all matters and potentially justiciable claims herein.

7. Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants should be DIRECTED to forthwith meet, confer and be further prepared to discuss with this Court on June 18, 2018 the establishment of a complete Pre-Trial and Scheduling Order including mediation and, if pertinent, the heretofore bifurcated matters with regard to Defendant, Evanston Insurance Company. Such matters were left open as a result of this Court's Order On January 8, 2018 Status Conference whereby the then controlling Scheduling Order previously entered herein on March 15, 2017 was thereby vacated.⁸

Rulings

Accordingly, this Court hereby ORDERS that:

1. Plaintiffs' Motion To Strike Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration be and is DENIED as presented.

2. DRB Defendants' Motion To Compel Arbitration, upon sua sponte treatment, be and is DENIED.

3. DRB Defendants' Motion To Strike Plaintiffs' Notice Of Hearing be and is DENIED as presented while DRB Defendants' further motion therein to Continue Hearing On Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action be and is GRANTED as herein further molded by this Court.

4. Plaintiffs' Motion To Certify Class Action be and is HELD IN ABEYANCE pending further discovery, briefing and hearing as set forth herein infra.

5. Plaintiffs' and DRB Defendants' respective Notices Of Hearing for June 4, 2018 with regard to their Motions to Strike, upon sua sponte treatment, be and are VACATED insofar as the above ruled upon Motions. However, such June 4, 2018 hearing be and is RESCHEDULED for JUNE 18, 2018 at 10:45 O'CLOCK A.M. for purposes of addressing DRB Defendants' Motion to Compel Plaintiffs' Answers And Responses To Defendants' Third Set Of Interrogatories And Second Set Of Requests For Production and other pertinent scheduling matters identified herein.

6. An additional Discovery and Briefing Schedule on class certification be and is ESTABLISHED and a further Hearing on certification of such class be and are SCHEDULED by this Court, to-wit:

(a) Class Discovery shall be undertaken and completed by Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants on or before FRIDAY, JULY 27, 2018.

(b) Briefing by such parties on the issue of Class Certification shall be served and filed on or before FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 2018.

(c) A Class Certification Hearing shall be held on FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 2018 and beginning at 9:00 O'CLOCK A.M.

7. Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants be and are DIRECTED to forthwith meet, confer and be further prepared to discuss with this Court on June 18, 2018 the establishment of a complete Pre-Trial and Scheduling Order including mediation and the bifurcated matters with regard to Defendant, Evanston Insurance Company.

Having all so ruled, this Court hereby ORDERS that Plaintiffs and DRB Defendants be and are GRANTED all necessary objections and exceptions thereon as they may respectively deem necessary for further proceedings.

Finally, this Court hereby DIRECTS the Clerk of this Court to send or otherwise provide certified copies of this Order to the following:
