

Administrative Office of
The Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia
Position Announcement

11TH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT - LOGAN COUNTY
EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

All applications must be received no later than 8/17/26

The Position

The Administrative Office of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia has an immediate professional opportunity for a School Based Probation Officer (SBPO) in Logan, West Virginia. Logan County Schools has contracted through a Memorandum of Understanding with the Supreme Court of Appeals of WV to have a school-based probation officer in place. The SBPO is under the direct supervision of the Logan County Chief Probation Officer as part of the local Judicial Administrative Staff but will work within Logan County Schools.

PROBATION OFFICER

Salary Commensurate with Experience and Education.

Position Purpose: Under the direction of the Chief Probation Officer, and guidance provided by the Attendance Director, the SBPO will supervise and counsel juveniles under their supervision and ensure that all conditions of their supervision are met. The School-Based Probation Officer will focus on the middle school and high school freshmen, who demonstrate a high risk of truancy based on previous/current attendance, behavior and course/grade completion rates gathered through WVEIS data collection system and Clarity BrightBytes.

Minimum Qualifications: The successful candidate must possess a bachelor's degree in criminal justice, psychology, counseling, corrections, social work, or a related social science field. Prerequisites include working knowledge of principles of probation work, related court procedures, state laws, rules, substance abuse trends/treatment, and cases affecting probation work. Analytical and investigative skills, and the ability/knowledge to navigate community service resources required. Excellent oral communication skills and even temperament are high priority considerations for this position. High-level writing skills are essential. Must have a valid driver's license and reliable transportation. If assisting with regular probation cases, the applicant must be able to work evenings, weekends, and holidays when needed. A writing sample is also required.

Probation Officers must possess and maintain a level of physical fitness necessary to safely and effectively perform the duties of the position. This may include moderate demanding physical effort in conducting home or field visits, and physical demands consistent with the operation of a firearm, use of self-defense tactics, or wearing and working in protective equipment. Vision and hearing must also be adequate to perform required duties of the position safely and effectively.

While much of the work is administrative, officers are expected to be both physically and mentally capable of handling unpredictable, stressful, and potentially confrontational situations in a safe manner. Prior to hiring, candidates must successfully complete a psychological examination. This examination is to determine appropriateness for this type of work. Successful candidates must also submit to a writing evaluation to demonstrate presentence report and other document drafting ability.

Candidates with disabilities may request accommodation for consideration by the Court's ADA Coordinator in accordance with federal, state, and local laws

Primary Duties and Responsibilities include:

- Work with students who are experiencing truancy issues.
- Conduct drug screenings.
- Attend court hearings.
 - Monitor juvenile status offenders placed under supervision because of truancy.
- Conduct field supervision and home visits.
- Work closely with community agencies such as youth report centers, schools, community service work providers, the Department of Human Services, other court services and other state agencies in order to link services for persons under probation officers' supervision.
- Performs other duties as assigned.

Criminal Background Check and Drug Screen: Successful candidates must submit to criminal background check and a drug screen.

Compensation and Benefits include:

- Competitive salary based on experience and qualifications,
- Medical Insurance,
- Optional Flexible Benefits Coverage (dental, vision, disability, and excess medical),
- Life insurance,
- Defined benefit pension plan,
- Section 457 deferred compensation plan,
- 12 paid holidays, and
- Annual and sick leave.
