The Position
The Administrative Office of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia has an immediate professional opportunity for a Juvenile Probation Officer in Charleston, West Virginia. The position will work with juveniles and reports directly to the Chief Probation Officer as part of the local Judicial Administrative Staff.

JUVENILE PROBATION OFFICER

Position Purpose: Under the direction of the Chief Probation Officer, this position will supervise and counsel juvenile probationers and work with their school and families to ensure that all behavioral needs and conditions of probation are met. This position may also require intensive supervision work of treatment court participants and/or sexual offenders and therefore may be required to work non-traditional hours. Probation Officers are responsible for conducting investigations and preparing reports to assist the Judge in making recommendations regarding juvenile probationers failing to comply with their probation.

Minimum Qualifications: Graduation from a recognized College or University with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice, counseling, social work, psychology or related social/behavior field(s). A working knowledge of probation work, social work, related court procedures, state laws, and/or substance abuse trends/treatment are preferred. Analytical and investigative skills, and the ability/knowledge to navigate community service resources are required. Excellent oral communication skills and even temperament are high-priority considerations for this position. High-level writing skills are essential. Must have a valid driver's license and reliable transportation. Applicants must be able to work evenings, weekends, and holidays when needed. A writing sample is also required.

Physical Requirements: Probation Officers must possess and maintain a level of physical fitness necessary to safely and effectively perform the duties of the position. This may include moderate demanding physical effort in conducting home or field visits, and physical demands consistent with the operation of a firearm, use of self-defense tactics, or wearing and working in protective equipment. Vision and hearing must also be adequate to perform required duties of the position safely and effectively.

Candidates with disabilities may request accommodation for consideration by the Court's ADA Coordinator in accordance with federal, state, and local laws.

Primary Duties and Responsibilities include:

- Administer risk/need assessments.
- Create individual case plans.
- Conduct drug screenings.
- Prepare pre-disposition reports.
- Attend multi-disciplinary hearings, educational meetings and work closely with youth reporting centers, school / truancy staff, local community health centers, juvenile residential facilities, the Department of Human Services, the Bureau of Juvenile Services and other state agencies in order to link services for the youth under supervision.
- Attend and testify in court hearings.
- Monitors juvenile placed on probation or improvement period.
- Conducts field supervision.
- Perform other duties as assigned.

Criminal Background Check and Drug Screen: Successful candidates must submit to criminal background check and a drug screen.

While some of the work is administrative, officers are expected to be both physically and mentally capable of handling unpredictable, stressful, and potentially confrontational situations in a safe manner. Prior to hiring, candidates must successfully complete a psychological examination. This examination is to determine appropriateness for this type of work. Successful candidates must also submit to a writing evaluation to demonstrate presentence report and other document drafting ability.

Compensation and Benefits include:

- Competitive salary based on experience and qualifications,
- Medical Insurance,
- Optional Flexible Benefits Coverage (dental, vision, disability, and excess medical),
- Life insurance,
- Defined benefit pension plan,
- Section 457 deferred compensation plan,
- 12 paid holidays, and
- Annual and sick leave.
